

Acadia University is recognized as one of Canada's premier undergraduate institutions. Academic innovation and a technology-rich teaching and learning environment have garnered the university a reputation for excellence. Our progressive workplace is located only one hour from Halifax in Nova Scotia's beautiful Annapolis Valley – a small-town setting offering an affordable lifestyle, outstanding recreational opportunities, internationally acclaimed restaurants, a healthy economy, and the best weather in the Atlantic Provinces.

Acadia University is proudly located on Mi'kma'ki, the ancestral territory of the Mi'kmaq People.

Faculty of Professional Studies, School of Kinesiology
Assistant Professor
Tenure Track Appointment in Human Physiology/ Exercise Physiology

Position #30327 – The School of Kinesiology invites applications for a tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor effective July 1, 2022.

Qualifications: The successful candidate will possess a Ph.D. in Kinesiology or related field with a focus on the physiology of human movement (e.g. human physiology, exercise physiology, environmental physiology, cardiovascular physiology, respiratory physiology). Expertise in human physiology and exercise physiology is required. The successful candidate will teach undergraduate courses in applied human physiology and they will also teach elective courses in Kinesiology based on interest and expertise as well as School needs.

Possession of professional Kinesiology certifications from organizations such as the Canadian Society for Exercise Physiology (CSEP) or equivalent would be valuable. Postdoctoral work and previous undergraduate university teaching experience will be considered assets. Candidates who are very near completion of their Ph.D. are also encouraged to apply.

An overall ability to contribute to the collaborative and dynamic teaching and research culture in the School is essential. The successful applicant will collaborate with the faculty and contribute to broaden the work of the School of Kinesiology and could also contribute to the Centre of Lifestyle Studies. The successful candidate is expected to become an excellent teacher, develop an externally funded research program, mentor students, and contribute to community engagement and service activities.

How to apply: Complete applications should include a letter of application and an up-to-date curriculum vitae along with the names and contact information of three referees who, if the applicant is shortlisted, will be contacted to submit letters of support for the applicant. The candidate should send the complete application package to:

Dr. René Murphy, Director
School of Kinesiology, Acadia University
Wolfville, Nova Scotia, Canada B4P 2R6
Email: rene.murphy@acadiau.ca

Closing Date: January 3rd, 2022

For additional information on School of Kinesiology, please visit: kinesiology.acadiau.ca

The University invites applications from all qualified individuals; however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority. Acadia University is committed to employment equity and diversity in the workplace and welcomes applications from Aboriginal people, African Nova Scotians, persons with disabilities, visible minorities, women, and persons of any minority sexual orientation or gender identity. Consistent with the principles of employment equity, the primary criterion for appointment to a position is qualifications and professional excellence. Candidates who identify as a member of one of the afore-mentioned groups, and who wish to have the application considered as such, are invited to submit the online Employment Equity Voluntary Self-Identification Form as part of their application package.

The university will provide support in its recruitment processes to applicants with disabilities, including accommodation that takes into account an applicant's accessibility needs. If you require accommodation because of a disability or for any other reason during the interview process, please contact: rene.murphy@acadiau.ca